(a) Central Rural Sanitation Programme (CRSP) is being implemented in the country since1986. Taking into consideration the experience gained by the Government of India and the StateGovernments in the implementation of the Programme in the past, the CRSP was restructuredw.e.f. 1st April, 1999 and Total Sanitation Campaign was introduced in addition to the Allocation Based Programme. The restructured CRSP moves away from the principle of State-wiseallocations primarily based on poverty criteria to a `demand-driven` approach. The Allocation Based Programme was phased out by 2001-2002. However, the Total Sanitation Campaign (TSC) is continued along with the spill over works under the Allocation Based Programme.

(b) The details of funds allocated under the Allocation Based Programme during thelast three years, State-wise are given in Annex-I. Since, the Allocation Based Programme wasphased out by 2001-2002, there is no State-wise allocation of funds from 2002-2003 onwards. The Total Sanitation Campaign Projects sanctioned, funds released state-wise are furnished in Annex-II.
